Section 52. The member who is under the circumstance under section 46 shall not attend the meeting for considering the inquiry file, with the exception of the member whose knowledge of the events to which the allegation relates is obtained on account of being appointed as a member of the inquiry sub-committee.

Section 53. The N.C.C. Commission shall consider the allegation from the inquiry file and pass a resolution as to whether the allegation has a prima facie case. In the case where the N.C.C. Commission passes a resolution that the allegation has no prima facie case, such allegation shall lapse.

Section 54. When the N.C.C. Commission has passed a resolution under section 53, if such allegation is the matter referred to the Commission by the President of the Senate under section 43 (1) or is the matter in respect of which the injured person lodged a request for taking legal proceeding against the alleged culprit under section 43 (2), the President shall furnish a report to the President of the Senate or inform the injured person thereof, as the case may be, without delay.

If the alleged culprit is the person who has already submitted an account showing particulars of assets and liabilities, the N.C.C. Commission shall also take such account into consideration.

In the case where the alleged culprit is unable to present evidence that the property under temporary seizure or attachment is not connected with the unusual wealthiness, the N.C.C. Commission shall have the power to continue its seizure or attachment until the N.C.C. Commission passes a resolution that the allegation has no prima facie case, which must be within one year as from the date of the seizure or attachment or until the Court passes a final judgment dismissing that case. But, if the proof is successful, the property shall be returned to such person.

Section 79. For the purpose of a fact inquiry, the N.C.C. Commission shall order the alleged culprit to show particulars of assets and liabilities of the alleged culprit in accordance with items and procedures and within the time prescribed by the N.C.C. Commission, which shall not be less than thirty days and shall not be more than sixty days.

In the case in which a request is made that the property be ordered to devolve upon the State, onus of proof to the Court that the said property does not result from the unusual wealthiness is upon the alleged culprit.

Section 82. A transfer or any act in connection with the property of the State official which is done after the N.C.C. Section 87. The N.C.C. Commission may refuse to accept or invoke for consideration the allegation which is of the following descriptions:

- (1) the matter which exhibits the nature of an anonymous letter, for which no clear evidence is so sufficiently specified as to enable a fact inquiry;

Section 88. When the N.C.C. Commission has received the allegation against the State official under section 84 or has a reasonable cause to suspect that any State official has committed an offence of corruption, malfeasance in office or malfeasance in judicial office, the N.C.C. Commission shall proceed in accordance with Chapter 4, Fact Inquiry.

Section 89. In the case where the injured person has lodged a complaint, or a denunciation is made, to the inquiry official requesting for an action against a State official who is not the person under section 66 in consequence of the commission of the act under section 88, the inquiry official shall refer the matter to the N.C.C. Commission within thirty days as from the date of the complaint or the denunciation, for the purpose of proceeding with it in accordance with the provisions in this Chapter. In this connection, if the N.C.C. Commission, having considered the matter, is of the opinion that it is not the case under section 88, the N.C.C. Commission shall refer it back to the inquiry official for proceeding with it in accordance with the Criminal Procedure Code.

Section 90. In conducting a fact inquiry, if the N.C.C. Commission is of the opinion that the continued performance of the alleged culprit shall cause injury to the Government service or cause an impediment to the inquiry, the N.C.C. Commission shall refer the matter to the superior of the alleged culprit for an order of suspension from the Government service or from work pending the decision of the N.C.C. Commission. If the superior of the alleged culprit has ordered a suspension from Government service or from work and a subsequent outcome of the inquiry reveals that the allegation has no prima facie case, the N.C.C. Commission shall inform the superior of the alleged culprit thereof for the purpose of issuing an order allowing the alleged culprit to resume the Government service or work in the original position.

Section 91. When the N.C.C. Commission has conducted the inquiry and passed a resolution that a particular allegation has no prima facie case, such allegation shall lapse. Any allegation which, according to the N.C.C. Commission's resolution, has a prima facie case shall be pursued as follows:

Commission has passed the resolution, without the appointment of a disciplinary inquiry committee. In considering the disciplinary penalty to be inflicted upon the alleged culprit, it shall be deemed that the report, documents and opinion of the N.C.C. Commission is the disciplinary inquiry file of the disciplinary inquiry committee under the law, rules or regulations on personnel administration applicable to such alleged culprit, as the case may be.

In the case where the alleged culprit is a judicial official under the law on judicial service, judge of the Administrative Court under the law on establishment of Administrative Courts and Administrative Court Procedure or public prosecutor under the law on public prosecutors service, the President shall send the report and existing documents together with the opinion to the President of the Judicial Commission, the President of the Judicial Commission of the Administrative Courts or the President of the Public Prosecutors Commission, as the case may be, for considering and proceeding with the matter in accordance with the law on judicial service, the law on establishment of Administrative Courts and Administrative Court Procedure or the law on public prosecutors service without delay. In this connection, the report and documents of the N.C.C. Commission shall also be regarded as part of the inquiry file. The outcome shall be furnished to the N.C.C. Commission for information within fifteen days as from the date the order of the disciplinary penalty is issued or the date a decision is given that no disciplinary offence is found.

In the case of the alleged culprit to whom no laws, rules or regulations on disciplines are found applicable, the President shall, upon the N.C.C. Commission's resolution that such alleged culprit has committed an offence as alleged, send the report and existing documents together with the opinion of the N.C.C. Commission to the superior or the person who has the power to appoint or remove such alleged culprit for the purpose of proceeding in accordance with his or her powers and duties.

Section 93. Upon receipt the report under section 92 paragraph one and paragraph three, the superior or the person having the power to order the appointment and removal shall consider the penalty within thirty days as from the date of receipt thereof, and the superior or the person having the power to order the appointment and removal shall furnish a copy of the penalty order to the N.C.C. Commission for information within fifteen days as from the date the order is issued.

Section 94. Any superior or the person having the power to order the appointment and removal who fails to take action under section 93 is deemed to commit a disciplinary offence or a legal offence under the law, rule or regulation on personnel administration applicable to the alleged culprit in question.

Section 95. In the case where the superior of the alleged culprit fails to take the disciplinary action under section 93 or the N.C.C. Commission considers that the disciplinary action taken by the superior under section 93 is incorrect or inappropriate, the N.C.C. Commission shall present its opinion to the Prime Minister and the Prime Minister shall have the power to give an order as the Prime Minister thinks fit. In the case of necessity, the N.C.C. Commission may order the Civil Service Commission under the law on civil service or other commission having the duty to control and supervise the execution of the law, rule and regulation on personnel administration for State officials or the commission which performs the management of the State enterprise or the person who has given an order appointing a member of a commission, committee or sub-committee or an employee of a Government agency, State agency or State enterprise, as the case may be, to consider and take correct and appropriate action within the powers and duties, except that in the case where the alleged culprit is a judicial official under the law on judicial service, a judge of the administrative court under the law on establishment of Administrative Courts and Administrative Courts Procedure, or a public prosecutor under the law on public prosecutors service, the N.C.C. Commission shall furnish its opinion to the President of the Judicial Commission, President of the Judicial Commission of the Administrative Courts or President of the Public Prosecutors Commission, as the case may be.

Section 96. The alleged culprit punished under section 93 may exercise the right to appeal against the exercise of the superior's discretion in giving the penalty order, in accordance with the law, rule or regulation on personnel administration applicable to such alleged culprit, provided that such right must be exercised within thirty days as from the date the superior or the person having the power to order the appointment or removal gives the penalty order.

Section 97. In the case where the N.C.C. Commission passes a resolution that any matter put in the allegation amounts to a criminal offence, the President shall furnish the report, documents and opinion to the Prosecutor-General or, in the case where the alleged culprit is the Prosecutor-General, proceed with the prosecution, for the purpose of criminal proceedings before the Court having competence to try and adjudicate the case. In this instance, the report of the N.C.C. Commission shall be deemed the inquiry file under the Criminal Procedure Code and the Court shall accept the case without conducting a preliminary examination.

When the Prosecutor-General has received the report and documents together with the opinion from the N.C.C. Commission under paragraph one and considers that the report, documents and opinion furnished by the N.C.C. Commission are not so complete as to justify the institution of the prosecution, the Prosecutor-General shall inform the N.C.C. Commission thereof for further proceeding. In this instance, the incomplete items shall, at the same time, fully be specified. In this case, the N.C.C. Commission and the Prosecutor-General shall appoint a working committee consisting of representatives of each side in an equal number, for the purpose of collecting full evidence and furnish it to the Prosecutor-General for instituting the prosecution. In the case where such working committee fails to arrive at a conclusion as to the prosecution, the N.C.C. Commission shall have the power to initiate the prosecution of its own motion or appoint an attorney to institute the prosecution on its behalf.

Section 98. When the prosecution is intended to be instituted under section 97, the provisions of section 74 shall apply mutatis mutandis.

Section 99. In the case where the N.C.C. Commission passes a resolution that a particular allegation has a prima facie case for an offence under section 91, if, in addition to proceeding in accordance with section 92 or section 97, if the inquiry by the N.C.C. Commission reveals that the alleged culprit granted approval or permission conferring rights or benefits on, or issued a document of title to, any person contrary to the law or official regulation to the detriment of the Government service, the President shall furnish the report and existing documents together with its opinion to the superior or head of the agency concerned for the purpose of filing an application to the Court for an order or judgment cancelling or revoking the right or document of title in respect of which the alleged culprit granted approval or permission.

Remark: The reason for the promulgation of this Organic Act is that section 301 of the Constitution of the Kingdom of Thailand provides that the National Counter Corruption Commission has the powers to inspect assets and liabilities of persons holding political positions and other State officials, to conduct a fact inquiry and prepare an opinion in the case where a request is lodged for removing high-ranking State officials from office and to inquire and give a decision as to whether a State official has become unusually wealthy or committed an offence of corruption or malfeasance in office, and in this connection, section 329 provides that the organic law on counter corruption shall be enacted within two years as from the date of the promulgation of the Constitution of the Kingdom of Thailand. In this instance, section 331 provides that such organic law shall have the essential substance with regard to the acts amounting to unusual wealthiness and corruption, acts amounting to conflict of interest between personal interest and public interest, the rules, procedures and process for the inquiry of facts related to the allegation and penalties to be inflicted upon the President or a member of the National Counter Corruption Commission in the event of carrying out an act unjustly, committing an offence of corruption or malfeasance in office. In addition, section 302 provides that the National Counter Corruption Commission shall have the Office of the National Counter Corruption Commission as a secretariat which shall enjoy autonomy in the personnel administration, budget management and other activities as provided by law. It is, therefore, necessary that this Organic Act be enacted.
